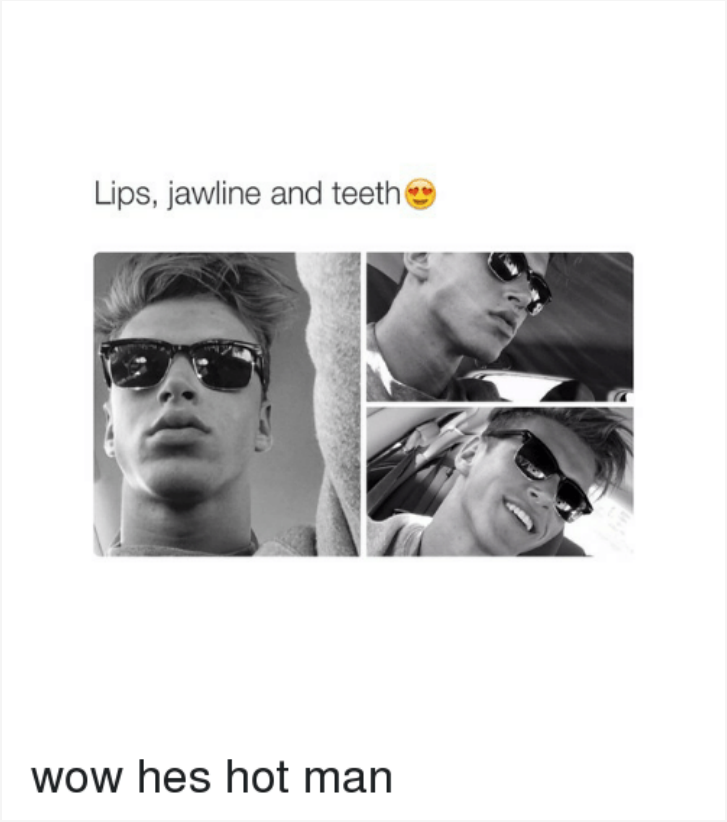
Lips , probably the most overlooked aspect of facial attractivness by the PSL community despite them being the second most looked at part of your face after the eyes .

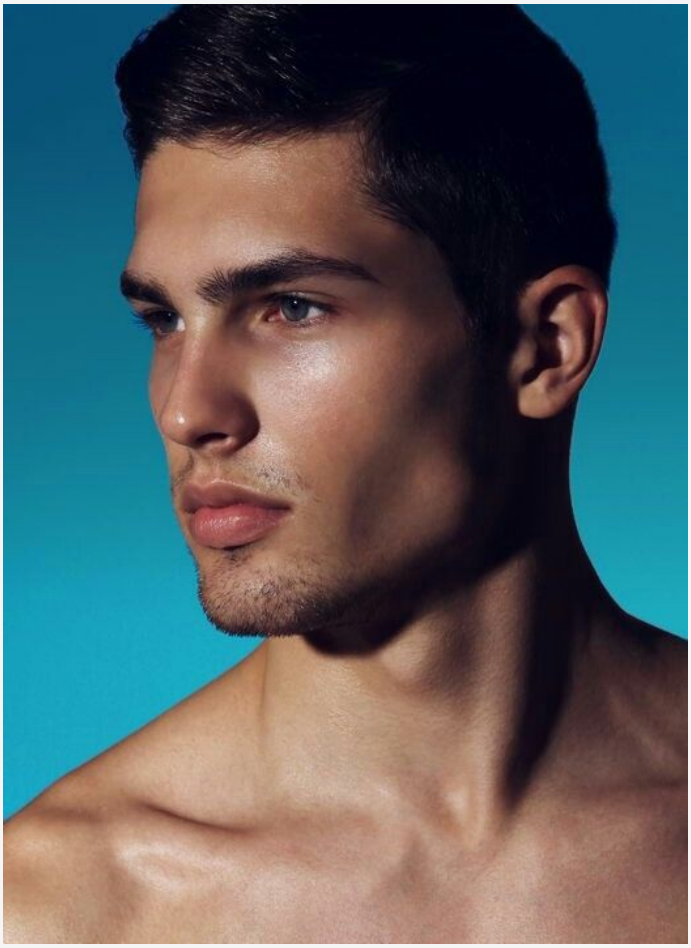
Literally 99 % of the guys I see everyday are walking around with crusty chapped dark disgusting looking lips that no women would ever want to kiss .



Here are some examples :

- Incel lips : (Chapped , crusty , discolored , dark , thin)

- Chads lips (smooth , no dead skin , moisturized , pink/red hue , plump)



How to obtain chads lips ?

1 - Exfoliate :

Use half a tbl spoon of honey and add a tbl spoon of sugar , mix them together and use the paste to scrub your lips for a few minutes , dont go too hard to avoid cutting your lips .

This scrub is HIGHLY effective , I'v tried it myself and my lips look soooo much better after using it

Use twice a week .

2 - Bleach :

Cut a few lemon and make lemon juice , put in on your lips before going to bed . Lemon juice is very effective to remove all the dark spots and discoloration from your lips , even black women can obtain pink lips if they use lemon juice regulary , that's how powerful it is

You will obtain red/pink lips with zero discoloration

3 - Moisturize :

After washing your face in the morning , take a dab of olive oil / argan oil / almond oil and put a small drop on your lips and smack your lips together , the oil absorbs super fast , leaves no trace and greatly enhance their looks for the entire day .

BONUS FOR THIN LIPSCELS :

You can use cinnamon to plump your subhuman thin lips and add volume to them . Google how to use it .

Yes, my lips are what I am looksmaxxing atm. My upper lip isn't as plump and forward as I'd like it and even my orthodontist said that the Invisalign treatment I'm undergoing will fix the retruded upper lip. There's already a noticeable difference midway through the Treatment.

I have noticed that just about every famous male model has very full lips and thin lips are very unattractive.

I think that you have thin lips because of your slavic descent. Slavs have thin lips by default, it's in their nature. I'm not fully slavic, but I have some in my blood, and I have thin lips too. Although it's pink, moisturized and good looking, just not full enough.

Lip area is extremely genetic, you can't really change that, the best surgery is upper lip lift and even that can't get the expected results all the time. It's NOT about them being dehydrated or some BS, it's pure genetics, most white people have lips too thin while almost all blacks have thick weird lips, it's about having that white look but with more plumpy lips.

Anything but surgery is cope.

After I shower I just rub the towel on my lips semi-roughly to rip dead skin off, continue my skin routine which includes moisturizing the lips - whole face and body in general. Then after I've finished my routine I apply neosporin to them before bed which helps them keep moist and healthy for the next day to avoid overnight chapping. Since doing this for a long time I have very little or no dead skin on my lips at the end of the day and can go days without scrubbing them so I forget to do it at times.

Lips have always been naturally red and healthy though. I do this routine since they get very easily chapped being on low dose accutane.
